WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section snow, turning into rain, followed by fair; northeasterly winds.

A LIVELY C. RISE.—A story is being circulated in the southern end of the city to the effect that an old man "died" and suddenly returned to life within a very short period a day or two ago. It seems that a committee of the good ladies of the city who are devoting much of their time and means to the alleviation of the destitute during this severe weather called at the house to make inquiries concerning the condition of the family and found the wife (a young woman) in great distress. The ladies were told by the woman that her husband was dead in another room and that her poverty was now mixed with poignant sorrow. The kind ladies undertook to solace the "widow" and before they left deposited money on a table as a substantial evidence of their sympathy toward her. After leaving the house one of the committee returned to recover an umbrella or something of the sort she had left behind and re-entered the house without knocking, and was somewhat startled at seeing the supposed corpse helping to count the money which had been donated toward burying him. Apropos of the above, it is said that another committee had an experience in the southwestern portion of the city recently which has just leaked out. A call was made upon what was supposed to be a destitute family. A tale of woe was unwound to the sympathetic committee, during which it was stated that the head of the family was in another part of the house at the confines of the other world and that the doctor had given imperative orders that no one should be admitted to his room. Articles for the immediate relief of the family were left, and later some male friends, learning of the serious illness of their neighbor, made a call on him. They were also told he could not be seen, but they persisted and forced themselves in the room. They found every thing as still as death, and saw what they supposed was the form of the sick man in bed, but upon approaching and pulling down the quilts a bolster stretched lengthwise was all they found in the bed.

A SAD CASE.—Last Saturday morning, while the mercury in the thermometer was at zero, two women, scantily covered, were lying in bed in a cold cheerless house in the south eastern part of the city. The fuel was out as well as the larder, and one of the women was sick—critically sick. The temperature of the room was below the freezing point and the vapor from their respirations curled like smoke from their nostrils. There was nothing in the house from which a fire could be started. The sick woman hadn't the strength to rise had she desired to do so—the well one was afraid to arise lest she would freeze to death, and nestled close to her companion. The sick woman continued to grow worse and it finally became necessary for her to have medical attention, and the well woman managed to get word to some one passing in the street to go for a doctor. When the physician arrived he found the picture described above and became satisfied that both would freeze to death in a few hours if they continued in the room without a fire. He ministered as best he could to the patient, whom he found to be suffering from a criminal operation performed by a Washingtonian who had palmed himself off as a physician. SLEIGHING AND SKATING.—Many sleighs were out on the streets last night and despite the cold the riders seemed to enjoy the sport. The jingle of the bells was kept up till a late hour and quite a number of persons were on the street to see the sleighing. The runners of the sleigh in which Mr. Park Agnew's family was riding caught in a frog of the electric railway on King street, near Washington, and overturned the sleigh. The occupants were thrown out and Mr. Agnew's little boy was bruised about the face, but not seriously. No one else was hurt. All yesterday evening large crowds of people were on the cove and creek enjoying the skating, which is now perfectly safe, though the ice in many places is none too smooth.

FANNY RICE and her clever company will be at the Opera House Friday night in her latest and greatest success, "Nancy." The play is said to give Miss Rice the best opportunity to display her wonderful versatility that she has ever had and permits her to introduce numerous singing and acting numbers, including her wonderful singing and dancing dolls, and many other things. Prominent among the leading members of Miss Rice's company will be found such well known people as that excellent actor, George R. Edson, Eva Randolph, Herman Edment, the German comedian, Becky Haight, Barney McDonough, Emily Wakeman, Carl Burton, John Conley and others.

THE RACE TRACKS.—The Jockey Club will hold a special meeting in New York Thursday to consider the question of extending the license of the Virginia Jockey Club for its spring meeting, which will begin on March 4. It is now only a little over two weeks to the date set for the reopening at Alexander Island, and just three weeks to the meeting at St. Asaph, but on account of the delay in the matter of the license, negotiations looking to an arrangement of dates are at a standstill. Last week's storm renders it more than ever improbable that the St. Asaph track will be in shape for racing on the 4th. The track is practically snowed under.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD OPENED.—The tracks of the electric road from Mount Vernon to the local depot in this city were cleared of snow yesterday evening and cars ran to meet the 5:30 train—the first to run since Thursday evening. This evening the track will be cleared to the Driving Park, after which the track from the ferry wharf to Royal street on King and the Fairfax street track will be cleared. Superintendent Holden constructed a snow plow on the freight car and with the power of three cars succeeded in opening the drifts which had formed at various places between this city and Mount Vernon.

THE WEATHER AND THE RIVER.—The weather to-day has been cloudy and threatening, but the temperature has been higher than at any time for a week past, the mercury registering 32°. Spits of snow have fallen throughout the day. The river is still closed to navigation and will probably remain so for some time. The steamer Norfolk, of the Norfolk line, left Washington this morning at 9 o'clock for this city and reached here about 1 o'clock this evening. The steamer encountered ice from 8 to 16 inches in thickness, and Mr. Callahan, the superintendent of the company, decided not to attempt to proceed to Norfolk, but directed the steamer to return to Washington, which she did, after taking on board such freight as was on the wharf. It is not known when another attempt will be made by this steamer to open a track in the river.

The tug Brewerton has been running all day between this city and Shepherd's to keep open a track so that the railroad barge can be run when freight trains are ready for transfer. This morning the ferry steamer Columbia with the assistance of the Brewerton left her dock and ran into the dock to the north, where men were put to work repairing her rudder which was damaged while making her last trip to this city last Thursday morning.

THE LATE GENERAL CORSE.—As heretofore stated the funeral of the late General M. D. Corse will be held at St. Paul's church at 11:30 o'clock to-morrow morning. The sermon will be conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips, assisted by Rev. H. Suter. The names of the honorary pallbearers were published yesterday. The acting pallbearers will be Messrs. D. H. Appich, W. H. Bacon, Thos. Perry, J. R. Zimmerman, Frank J. Power and C. O. Sipple, all members of Lee Camp, which camp will attend in a body. An invitation has been extended to the surviving Mexican veterans in and near this city to unite with the camp in attending the funeral. By the death of General Corse only three survivors are left in this city of the men who left here with his company to go to the Mexican war—Messrs. J. S. Douglas, Amos Fisher and Presley Bloxham. Yesterday evening a delegation of citizens called at the residence of the late general and requested that a military funeral be held, but his family stated that they preferred an unostentatious funeral. To-day the distressed family of General Corse received many telegrams of condolence from distinguished ex-Confederates and others. A delegation of Pickett Camp from Richmond telegraphed that they would attend the funeral.

THE COUNTRY ROADS.—Numbers of people from Fairfax and Alexandria counties were in the city to-day. They say that tracks are being made in the snow in various directions, but that many of the roads are yet blocked and that teams have to go through fields for miles. In many places the snow drifts are still from 3 to 10 feet deep and will so remain for a long time. The carriage way of the Long bridge has been cleared of snow and vehicles began passing over that bridge yesterday evening.

Matthews & Co.'s wagons which were snowed in on the road between this city and Washington Thursday night were gotten out to-day by being hauled through the fields. As yet communication between the two cities by road has not been opened.

ENGINES COLLIDE IN A SNOWDRIFT. Two engines on the Washington and Ohio railroad collided in a snowdrift near Herndon yesterday morning. The engines were forcing their way through a snowdrift from opposite directions. Both were sent ahead at the same time, and the snow yielding to the impact unexpectedly, the engines met in the center of the drift with considerable force. One of the engineers, Charles Crump, of this city, had several teeth knocked out, and was otherwise bruised, but not seriously. James Curtis, the other engineer, also of this city, escaped injury. One of the engines was damaged, but not disabled, and the road having been cleared all the way to Round Hill, traffic, which had been blocked since Thursday evening, was resumed.

PERSONAL.—Miss Rose Clark, who has been quite sick, is able to be out again. Mrs. Phil. Leterman and children and Miss Hattie Leterman, who have been on a visit to Mayor and Mrs. Strauss, left to-day for their home in Charlottesville. It is generally believed and much regretted in this city that Rev. T. H. Rice will accept the call to the chaplaincy of the University of Virginia.

VIRGINIA ANTIQUITIES.—The public meeting of the Mt. Vernon branch of the association for the preservation of Virginia antiquities will be held at Peabody Hall to-night. Hon. John Goode, Rev. T. H. Rice and Mr. L. A. Machen, all of whom are fine speakers, will make addresses. There will be no tickets of admission, and all interested are cordially invited to be present.

THE TRAINS.—Freight and passenger trains were run on the W. & O. and the Manassas roads to-day, the snow blockade on those roads having been broken. This releases the tie-up of all the roads in this section and trains are now running more regularly than at any time since last Thursday—though some of them are yet running behind time.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The City Council will meet to-night. Relief Hook and Ladder Company will give their concert to-morrow night. Officer Grady to-day shot a dog supposed to be mad at the corner of Alfred and Gibson streets.

Hugh H. Downs, of The Plains, Fauquier county, died at the residence of Jos. S. Beach, north Royal street, yesterday afternoon of pneumonia.

The residence of Mrs. H. A. Smith, at Vienna, was burned Tuesday morning. The house and most all the contents were entirely destroyed.

A fire occurred on the roof of a house on the corner of Queen and Payne streets Sunday morning, but was extinguished by snow balls and no alarm was sounded.

A number of men and youths left here this morning to clean the snow from the railroad tracks between Shepherd's and Benning's. They are being paid $1.20 a day.

Mr. Charles Kidwell to day furnished the material for a large kettle of

If the person riding does not wish to purchase four tickets he can secure a transfer by the payment of three cents in addition to the regular fare.

A GOOD TIME TO BUY

DOMESTIC FABRICS.

Domestic stuffs, such as sheetings and bleached muslins, were never lower than at present. The very best makes of sheetings can now be procured at prices as low as inferior goods formerly cost. There has also been a material reduction in many leading brands of bleached muslins, cambrics, etc.

Our first instalment of NEW SPRING PERCALES is now open. The styles are very attractive.

We still continue our bargain sale of Winter Dress Stuffs, and the remarkable values have made them ready sellers. Nearly three months yet for the use of a winter wrap, and this is a rare opportunity to obtain one at a nominal cost.

Special attention is called to our line of ready-made sheets and pillow cases. Excellent values. The cost for finishing is just a trifle.
